

Vivid Scenes of the Island of Hawaii's Hearty Welcome to the Visiting Congressional Party

HAWAIIAN VILLAGE GIRL MAY BE ZONE DAY QUEEN

Princess Lei Lokelani, the little girl from the Hawaiian village, who has danced her way into the hearts of expectation visitors, continues to exercise a firm hold upon a first division position in the contest for queen of Zone Day, May 27.

What is more, she had advanced from sixth to third position, according to the San Francisco Bulletin of May 13. The zone's "Bird of Paradise" has converted her smiles into votes, with the result that she is now viewed as one of the most dangerous contenders for Zone Day honors.

The pictures of the great European war and the four-reel racing feature, "The Kissing Cup," will close tonight at the Popular. Opening with a matinee on Monday, Booth Tarkington's great story, "Springtime," will be the photoplay feature at the Popular. This is a romance of the South before the war, and the leading role is taken by Miss Florence Nash, a dainty comedienne who has made a great hit in the movies on the mainland. "Springtime" will run for a week and prices will remain the same in spite of the fact that Manager Bredhoff has added the "Three Princess Midgets" to his usual bill.

The Lilliputians are widely known as the Hoy Sisters. They are German born and as near the same age as sisters can be without being triplets. They played in the "Antipodes" for nearly two years, and have a long contract to appear on one of the leading vaudeville circuits of the mainland.

Two miners were killed, and two seriously injured in an explosion in the Mutual mine, Walsenburg, Co. The cruiser Brooklyn, at Boston, was ordered to the Orient to relieve the Saratoga as flagship of the Asiatic fleet.

THEATRICAL OFFERINGS BATTLE OF CRAIG KENNEDY AGAINST "CLUTCHING HAND"

"Exploits of Elaine," Famous Series of Detective Stories, Will Be Run in Star-Bulletin Every Saturday — Moving Pictures of Big Serial to Be Shown at Ye Liberty Theater

The "Exploits of Elaine," the new serial photo-play that is now running each Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at Ye Liberty theater, will be told in story form in the Star-Bulletin commencing with today's issue. The first installment to be published in this newspaper appears on page 19 of this issue.

These pictures have attracted wide attention wherever they have been shown. They are run as an added attraction to the usual splendid programs shown at Ye Liberty. By reading the story before seeing the films one is afforded a two-fold pleasure as well as a more comprehensive insight of the action of the story.

The "Exploits of Elaine" will be found to be a fascinating series of stories, each complete in itself, but all dealing with the efforts of Craig Kennedy, the famous detective created by Arthur B. Reeve, to trace down a gang of criminals headed by a mysterious person known only as "The Clutching Hand."

Craig Kennedy, the scientific detective, has been the most notable detective of action since Sir A. Conan Doyle wrote his first "Sherlock Holmes" stories many years ago.

'CABIRIA' WONDER FILM PROMISES TO PACK BIJOU THEATER TONIGHT

"Cabiria," the great Italian masterpiece photoplay feature, has enjoyed a splendid run at the Bijou theater during the present week, but every indication points to tonight as being the biggest, in point of attendance, of any of the engagement. Requests for reservations commenced coming in early in the week for Saturday night's performance and the management anticipates using the S. R. O. sign this evening. Reservations can be made by telephone.

From the standpoint of the spectacular "Cabiria" is easily the greatest film ever shown in Honolulu, the greatest ever produced with possibly a single exception—and that has but recently been released. Aside from this it is one of the finest educational films ever produced, being an authentic reproduction, in picture form, of the early history of the country that later became the European stronghold of Christianity. Rome and Carthage were warring for supremacy in the third century B. C., and it is on the warring and at this time that the scenes surrounding "Cabiria" (The Spirit of the Flames) are laid. From a standpoint of scenic beauty it would be hard to conceive anything superior to this mammoth film of 12 reels. Catania and Syracuse in Sicily, Carthage, the Alps in Switzerland and Ciria and Numidia in Africa have been drawn upon for the scenic wonders of the film.

Volumes could be written about this photoplay and still all not be told. There is but one way to realize just how wonderful and spectacular it is—that is to see it. The performance at the Bijou will commence tonight promptly at 8 o'clock.

'CONSPIRACY' AT LIBERTY THEATER

John Emerson, author and actor, the man who created the leading role in one of Broadway's most recent dramatic successes, "The Conspiracy," will appear at Ye Liberty theater tonight for the last time in this offering. This detective comedy-drama, presented with the original star, Mr. Emerson, in the role of Winthrop Clavering, is one of the premier Paramount features thus far shown in this city.

The Famous Players Film Co. produced "The Conspiracy," and the production is of the usual excellent Famous Player quality. Each of the artists, aside from the principal, is excellent in their assigned parts. The cast includes Harold Lockwood, Lois

Meredith, Iva Shepherd, Francis Byrne, Hal Clarendon, Dodson Mitchell and Edward Durand. All are popular performers in the Famous Player organization and were brought together for "The Conspiracy" in order to give it the same success in the silent drama that had been its lot on the living stage. The plan proved a success. "The Conspiracy" has proved one of the big things of this company that does nothing but big things. The eighteenth episode of the "Million Dollar Mystery," a late released "Pathe Weekly," and Mary Pickford in "White Roses," completes the big bill for the last half of the week, closing with tonight's performance.

"White Roses" is one of Mary Pickford's earlier offerings and one that shows this charming little actress at her best. It is one of the best short reel offerings she has ever appeared in.

James Fairchild, for 33 years principal editorial writer for the Pittsburgh Dispatch, died of heart disease.
